

PROTECTION FROM UNFAIR COMPETITION OR GROWING IMPORTS

first steps producers should take

by International Development Group for U.S. Agency for International Development

ISSUE: deterioration in economic climate within a company as a result of unfair competition triggered by importing of goods/constantly growing imports

SOLUTION: initiation of anti-dumping/subsidy and safeguard investigations

RESULT: opportunity to take restrictive (anti-dumping, countervailing or safeguard) measures against the imports.

Types of investigations:

- Anti-dumping: unfair competition dumped imports (imports from one or several countries)
- Anti-subsidy: unfair competition subsidized imports (imports from one or several countries)
- Safeguard: increase in general importation of certain goods (despite the country of origin)

Possible preconditions for launching an investigation:

- Loss of Ukrainian market share by a company
- · Unfair competition or growing imports
- Deterioration in economic climate within a company following growing or unfair imports

In case of preconditions for an investigation, a producing company shall take the following steps:

STEP 1

- I. Determine the product (description, UCG FEA code);
- II. Make sure that a company (producer) occupies the major share of the total production of such products in Ukraine or is supported by other production enterprises;
- III. Decide on the type of an investigation depending on trade violations;
- IV. Analyze figures and factors that indicate deterioration in the economic climate (within a producer or a group of producers);
- V. Make sure that the economic climate within a producer is exactly a result of unfair competition or growing imports;
- VI. Address the Department for foreign economic activity and trade protection for advisory assistance.

STEP 2

Draft an application or a claim to initiate opening of an investigation as follows:

- 1. Information about applicants and facts proving that companies (producers) represent the major share of the total production in Ukraine;
- 2. Information about goods that should be a subject to the investigation and information about goods produced by an applicant;
- 3. Information about foreign producers that should be a subject to investigation (in case of anti-dumping or anti-subsidy investigation);
- 4. Information about imports (dumped, subsidized or growing);
- 5. Information about injury caused to an applicant as result of unfair competition or growing imports;
- 6. Facts that prove that national interests require imposition of restrictive measures (safeguard, anti-dumping or countervailing) against the imports;
- 7. Information and evidence of dumped or subsidized imports (in case respective investigation is open).

ATTENTION! All the aforementioned information must be supported with respective evidence.

STEP 3

Official address regarding opening of an investigation

Address the Ministry of Economy of Ukraine to request opening of respective investigation.
